BPWS OKs Crystal Beach contract

Changes, delayed opening to save $750K

BY BOB DEMAREE

Madison's Board of Public Works and Safety (BPWS) on Monday approved a negotiated contract with RL Turner Corporation for construction of a new pool at Crystal Beach that will cost about $750,000 less than the company's original $8,030,000 bid on the project.

The city approved cost-saving change orders and agreed to delay the construction timeline and reduce the overall cost of the new pool to $7,270,021. The approved changes will not impact any of the pool's proposed features — from the splash pad to the lazy river to the diving platform and slides — but will implement a simplified process for reinforcing concrete and a different filtration system and push back construction completion to May 1, 2024 after originally targeting late this summer.

Tony Steinhardt III, the city's director of economic development, said although the project will cost less than the original bid, the pool will "provide all the amenities that have been presented to the community."

"We've spent a lot of time rolling up our sleeves and looking for opportunities for savings"

Century of Service

On Sunday, Dolores Hellmann celebrated a life that on Feb. 3 reached 100 years with much of that spent in service. "It's almost embarrassing," she said. "I can't believe it." Hellmann grew up in the Germantown neighbor in Louisville, went to Ursuline College and was a Catholic nun in her early years before moving to Madison. A former employee of Madison Chemical, Hellmann has devoted herself to service. Just five years ago, she received the President's Lifetime Achievement Award from King's Daughters' Hospital for achieving 5,000 or more hours of volunteer service. She has also volunteered time at Shawe Memorial High School and Pope John Elementary. Hellman was honored with a special event Sunday at the Autumn Trace Assisted Living Facility that included Mayor Bob Courtney presenting her with a key to the city.

Firefighters respond to Saturday morning blaze

BY THE COURIER STAFF

An early morning structure fire on Saturday was contained to the rear of a house in the 3700 block of County Road 300 West.

Firefighters from Madison Township and Rykers Ridge fire departments were dispatched to the scene of the working fire on the first floor of the house at 5 a.m. on Saturday, Feb. 4.

Working together with other fire companies, a quick interior attack on the fire successfully extinguished the blaze, containing the fire to the rear of home with smoke and heat damage to the rest of the structure.

By utilizing a tanker task force, 8,300 gallons of water was on the scene within minutes as tankers were summoned from Hanover Township and Dupont-Lancaster Township fire departments to be utilized along with tankers from Madison Township and Rykers Ridge. Additional manpower was provided by city of Madison fire departments through Fair Play No. 1 and North Madison No. 5.

In order to ensure that the fire was completely out, ceilings were pulled and walls were opened. The fire was out by 6 a.m. but a truck was kept on scene until 10 a.m. to make sure the fire did not rekindle.

All residents of the house were confirmed to be out of the house, along with 10 pets, by the time firefighters arrived. There were no injuries to firefighters or residents.

The Indiana Fire Marshal's Office is investigating to determine the cause of the fire.

Jefferson County Sheriff's Department and Madison Police Department both responded to the scene. Norton King's Daughters' Health EMS also was on standby at the scene.

Nurse turned CCATC educator nominated for TOTY

BY JENNIFER WILLHOITE
CARROLL COUNTY SCHOOLS

Diane Glenn began her career as a nurse but, in her heart, she has always been a teacher.

"Nursing from day one is education," Glenn said. "That's what I've been doing all this time. We don't call nurses educators, but nurses know we are teachers." She noted that nurses teach patients to stay healthy, how to get better if they are sick and how to cope with long-term illnesses and medical conditions.

Glenn is new to the Carroll County Area Technology Center, where she began teaching pre-nursing in August. "I have a connection to this type of setting," she said, noting she attended vocational school when she was a high school student.

The connection to education, nursing and her students has led the ATC to nominate her as Teacher of the Year. The winner will be announced in the Fall of 2024. A total of 24 teachers throughout the state will be honored.

Diane Glenn instructs pre-nursing students Summer Robertson, Katie Hensley and Grace Perkins on dosage calculation with an IV.

"I am happy to have nominated Diane for Teacher of the Year because, quite simply, she already does all of the things a top-notch educator should be doing," said ATC Student Advisor Chad Rose. "Despite her status as a first year teacher, Diane is meticulous in her preparation, consistent in her expectations, and thoughtful in her relationships with students and staff."

Glenn teaches pre-nursing students principles of health, leadership, medical terminology, emergency procedures, medical math, body structures and functions, and hands-on practice to become a Certified Medical Nursing Assistant. A number of the courses are dual-credit with JCTC. Within two years of the program, her students will be able to work in a nursing home setting. They can then advance their education to become a Licensed Practical Nurse, Registered Nurse and Nurse Practitioner.

Glenn said she was surprised and humbled by the nomination. "I was shocked. I was very humbled. I was like, my gosh, this is just my first year. I don't know that I feel worthy."

Her colleagues and students believe she is definitely worthy.

"Diane is an excellent candidate for this nomination because she seems to innately have some of the characteristics that every principal hopes to find or develop in all of his teaching staff," ATC Principal Kirk Brooks said. "One of the most important things she does so well is maintain a balance of love and high expectations. Diane has mastered the ability to make students feel cared about, but also hold them accountable, and even expect them to improve and grow as nursing students and leaders."

CCHS students Summer Robertson, Katie Hensley and Grace Perkins agreed their teacher is worthy of the nomination for Teacher of the Year.

"She helps us when we need it," Hensley, a junior, said. Not only is she helpful in the classroom, but she was kind enough to help Robertson find a winter

Man killed in Jennings officer-involved shooting

BY THE COURIER STAFF

NORTH VERNON — Indiana State Police are investigating an officer-involved shooting by the Jennings County Sheriff's Department SWAT Team that left a Seymour man dead on Friday afternoon.

Based on an initial investigation by detectives with the ISP-Versailles Post, the incident took place in rural Jennings County at about 2:30 p.m. on Friday when SWAT team officers responded to the 4000 Block of West County Road 175 North to serve an arrest warrant on Devin Corey Lark, 29, Seymour, Indiana, who was wanted on multiple felony warrants out of Clark and Jennings counties.

Upon arriving at the scene, Lark fled the scene on foot with deputies from the sheriff's office pursuing him on foot. While attempting to take Lark into custody, Lark allegedly produced a handgun and refused to drop the weapon when ordered to by a deputy. The deputy fired a single shot that struck Lark. Deputies on scene provided immediate medical attention and CPR and an ambulance responded and transported Lark to St. Vincent-Jennings Hospital in North Vernon where he was pronounced dead soon after arrival.

A second adult male was at the address when the shooting took place. However, he cooperated with officers and was arrested on an unrelated charge.

No officers were injured in the incident. The Jennings County Sheriff requested the Indiana State Police to conduct an investigation into the shooting and that investigation is ongoing. At the conclusion of the investigation, the case will be presented to the Jennings County Prosecutor's Office for review.

According to the Jennings County Sheriff's Office, the deputy will be placed on administrative leave per normal protocol. His name is not being released at this time.

Lark was wanted on a Level 4 felony warrant out of Clark Circuit Court for Dealing in a Narcotic Drug-Manufacture, Deliver or Finance the Manufacture and Level 6 felony Possession of a Narcotic Drug as well as Possession of Marijuana and Paraphernalia. He had previously pleaded guilty in Jennings County to amended charges of Operating a Vehicle While Intoxicated-Endangerment after also being charged with Inhaling Toxic Vapors.

A gofundme.com page has been established by a family member to help raise money for funeral expenses for Devin Lark and $980 of a $5,000 goal has been raised by 13 donations by Monday.

Osgood man killed in crash with dump truck

BY THE COURIER STAFF

An Osgood man was killed Monday morning in a two-vehicle accident in southern Decatur County.

The initial investigation by Master Trooper David Owsley, Indiana State Police-Versailles District Crash Reconstruction Team, indicated that Noah Seals, 26, Osgood, Indiana, was traveling southbound in a 2012 Chevrolet Cruze on U.S. 421 near County Road 600 South. For an unknown reason, Seals' vehicle crossed the centerline into the path of a northbound 2016 Mack dump truck driven by Patrick Stroud, 38, Vevay, Indiana. The vehicles collided nearly head on in the northbound lanes of U.S. 421.

Seals was pronounced dead at the scene by the Decatur County Coroner's office. Stroud sustained minor injuries in the crash and was transported to Decatur County Hospital where he was treated and released.

Indiana State Police began investigating the crash shortly after 8 a.m. and U.S. 421 was closed for nearly four hours for crash investigation and clean-up. The Decatur County Sheriff's Office, Decatur County EMS, Napoleon Fire Department, and the Decatur County Coroner's Office assisted at the scene.

coat. "I feel closer as a class. She brings us together," Robertson said.

Perkins added that she has learned a lot this year from Glenn, who she described as "very involved." All said they are enjoying the hands-on aspect of their program.

Glenn has worked as an elementary school nurse, family nurse practitioner in primary and urgent care settings and in 2019 became an adjunct professor for the Bachelor of Science and Masters of Science nursing programs at the University of the Cumberlands. In addition, she has led the medical side of foster care programs for the Commonwealth of Kentucky and she trains foster parents to care for medically complex children.

The nurse turned educator says she is "very impressed" with the ATC students and team. "I want to settle in, and I want a good team that supports each other and can thrive. This has been it. We are a family," she said with a smile.

"I believe in lifelong learning," said Glenn. "I like to learn, but I also like to teach. It's like I've been meant to be here."

over the last month, said Tim Doelling, project manager from K. Norman Berry Associates Architects.

In addition to saving money by extending the schedule, Doelling said that after consultation with the structural engineer, the process for reinforcing the concrete was simplified resulting in costs savings. Additionally, he said the filtration system was revised to provide a better filter and greater savings. "It was a good process. I am happy with where we are and I think we've got a good contract."

Steinhardt said it was also helpful to be able to split the project up with the demolition already finished. Having that portion of the work completed "should have alleviated most of the unforeseen conditions as feel like most of objects that we were expecting to find underground that might have been a surprise have all been removed, and we know what all is there."

Adam Owens, president and chief executive officer for RL Turner, said the final plans have been submitted to the state for approval, and once that's done "we're ready to mobilize. We've actually started releasing some of our subcontractors for materials and equipments" so work can begin once they get the OK to proceed.

Steinhardt thanked the design team and the contractors for their efforts over the last few weeks. "The amount of hours of creativity and thought that's gone into really value engineering this pool into a position that is going to be a generational change for Madison," Steinhardt said. "Without the team we've had in place, I don't think we could have got to where we are today."

However, 2023 will be another season like 2022 with no swimming at Crystal Beach. The new pool is now slated to open May 1, 2024 and that delay brings some of the cost savings.

Madison Mayor Bob Courtney noted there has been a mindset to "accelerate construction so we can get a little bit of pool time in the 2023 season since we were closed last year, and that really just wasn't practical. We would have to take some short cuts in order to make that happen or cost more, as we discovered, and we really wouldn't get that much pool season," Courtney said. "So, we felt it was better to take our time, be more thoughtful and prudent and pragmatic about this major investment."

Courtney said the city will once again work towards supplementing swimming in other ways over the upcoming summer like taking advantage of the pool at Clifty Park. "We're going to ask for the community's understanding to do that because the dividend is going to be in 2024 when there is a brand new Crystal Beach aquatic park there on the site of the current pool, and it's going to be one that's a regional destination, and add to Madison's historic district."

The BPWS also approved a $26,150 contract with Sedam Contracting for improvements to the basketball court at the west corner of Vaughn and Broadway, which Courtney considers part of the Crystal Beach footprint. "We're going to keep going until it's the pride of Madison," he said, noting funds will come from the parks department budget.

As part of that work, the deteriorating public restrooms that had been located next the courts for several decades have now been removed.

Steinhardt said improvements at the basketball court includes water fountains, benches, bicycle racks and a bicycle repair station for those using either the pool or the basketball court. Also, the width of the court will be expanded slightly, along with new basketball goals and fencing on the east side for safety to prevent balls from going onto Broadway Street. He anticipates work will begin about June 1.

In other improvements, a $29,150 contract was awarded to Sedam Contracting for improvements to Gaines Park that includes resurfacing the basketball court and installing new basketball goals and new playground equipment while expanding the shelter house. A stage also will be added to Gaines Park for use with festivals and other events. A groundbreaking at Gaines Park is tentatively scheduled for later this month. Steinhardt said the goal is for that project to be completed in time for the Broadway School reunion in September.

The board also approved an agreement with Cyber Switching to locate seven additional electric vehicle charging stations in the city including one at the gateway near the Milton-Madison bridge, two in the Mulberry Street parking lot, two in the parking lot on the north side of Main Street alongside Poplar Street and two in the new city parking that will be developed across from Lamplighter Park.

The new system will provide charging stations for a fee through an app to assist with recouping the city's costs. Steinhardt said that ease of maintenance and upkeep and pricing makes Cyber Switching a value to the city.

In another item related to Crystal Beach, a change order was approved for the Crystal Beach Pool House that decreased the costs from $2,608,400 to $2,410,600.

"The statement that Madison is on the move couldn't be more accurate after today's board of public works meeting approving the contract for Crystal Beach, new EV charging stations, and significant historic preservation efforts," said Courtney. "I couldn't be more proud of the direction Madison is achieving."

In other business:

- Deputy Mayor Mindy McGee said the city's property and liability insurance was finalized at $339,304 for this year. At the last BPWS meeting, the board had approved a premium of up to $357,305.43 that combines portions from Liberty Mutual and Chubb Insurance.
- Approved a contract with Sunset Cinema LLC for this summer's Movies in the Park lineup which will include movies on May 26, June 28, July 21, Aug. 25 and Sept. 29.
- Approved street closings near the Walnut Street Fire Company No. 4 for its 150th anniversary celebration on Saturday, March 18.
- Approved a midpoint PACE award to Melissa Lee-Miller of $12,500 for 315 East Fourth Street. Also, a final PACE award was awarded to Matt Chandler of $25,000 for 111 East Second St., which will be the site of The Chandler: Madison's Boutique Hotel. A final PACE award also was awarded to John Bruns of $13,777.50 for 1001 West First St., a dilapidated structure grant of $25,000 of which he had been paid the remainder at midpoint.

Madison's Canida wins 100 free; state finals next

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

GEORGETOWN — Lilly Canida is the type of person who sets high standards for herself. So when the Madison freshman not only lost her sectional race in the 50-yard freestyle but finished third, she didn't sit around and pout and feel sorry for herself. Instead, she went back to work.

Canida overcame that early disappointment to pull out a close win in the 100-yard freestyle to claim a sectional championship at Floyd Central on Saturday and earn a trip to the IHSAA State Finals this weekend in Indianapolis.

Canida is the first Madison Lady Cub to earn a state finals berth since Val Gonzalez four years ago and after losing that first race, she wasn't about to lose again.

"I was seeded first in the 50 and I got third and that kind of fired me up for the 100," Canida said. "I truly wanted to do it. I felt like I wasn't finishing my stroke as well. Like I was shortening my stroke. And so I was spinning my wheels."

Canida used the knowledge she gained from the 50 yard loss and went to work in the 100. Flanked by teammate Reilly Kuppler and Floyd Central's Savanna Liddle — both of whom had beaten her in the 50 — Canida knew she had to be fast. Her winning time of 54.00 flat bested Liddle by eight hundredths of a second and Kuppler by just over a second.

"We've talked about how the 50 has to be a perfect race. Everything has to work out. But with 100, you get a little bit of space," Madison coach Ashley Schutte said. "It took the 50 to figure things out. You know, the 50 didn't work out for her but we knew that that would give her incentive to go and fix herself. She did what she needed to do in the 100."

David Campbell

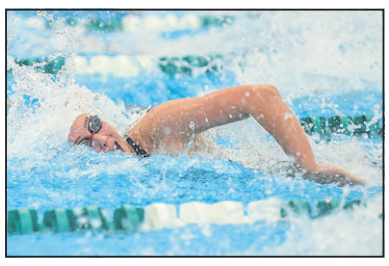
Canida's win in the 100 was just a small part of a successful weekend for Madison, which finished fourth overall as a team with 215 points.

Canida teamed with Kuppler, Avery Johnson and Emily Nay to set two new school records, placing second in the 200 medley relay in 1:54.33 and second in the 200 free relay in 1:43.36.

Kuppler also placed second in the 50 freestyle in 24.76 and third in the 100 free in 55.13 while Canida was third in the 50 free in 24.93. Nay swam sixth in the 100 butterfly in 1:05.33, Johnson was seventh in the 100 backstroke in 1:05.58, and Alyssa Storm, Penelope Bibbs, Callie Anderson and Emma Wynn were eighth in the 400 freestyle relay in 4:18.78.

"It's been incredible. I mean, both the medley relay and freestyle relays broke records today," Schutte said. "We're really excited about the girls program because they are on the cusp of something very special. We saw a couple years ago with the boys and now the seventh and eighth grades that are coming up out of our system. So it's gonna be exciting to watch."



David Campbell

Madison freshman Lilly Canida won the 100-yard freestyle and was a member of two school-record relays.

Southwestern's Raygan Crawford, who won the 100 butterfly sectional title last year, ended up fourth this year in 1:014.12 in a very fast race and was sixth in the 100 backstroke in 1:04.92. She also teamed with Riley Crawford, Amiah Owen and Claire Shaffer to place sixth in the 200 medley relay in 2:06.51 and with Riley Crawford, Shaffer and Addy Nussbaum to place sixth in the 400 freestyle relay in 4:02.68.

Finishes in the consolation finals for Madison were: Nay, ninth, 50 free, 26.65; Wynn, 10th, 100 back, 1:09.73 and 15th, 100 free, 1:03.25; Anderson, 12th, 100 breast, 1:25.98; Johnson, 13th, 200 IM, 2:37.96; Kira Brittain, 14th, 100 back, 1:14.65; and Storm, 16th, 200 free, 2:28.32.

Finishes in the consolation finals for Southwestern were: Riley Crawford, ninth, 200 free, 2:14.31 and ninth, 100 free, 58.52; Owen, Zoya Kalinin, Alexis Dean-Wells and Nussbaum, 10th, 200 free relay, 2:10.58; Nussbaum, 14th, 200 free, 2:22.34; and Owen, 16th, 100 back, 1:15.31.

Finishes in consolation finals for Switzerland County were: Ava Cole, Brooklyn Flanders, Molly Hicks and Kaelin Taylor, ninth, 200 medley relay, 2:16.56; Taylor, Carly Bennett, Hicks and Cole, ninth, 200 free relay, 2:02.69; Bennett, Amber Detmer, Emily Oatman and Hicks, 10th, 400 free relay, 5:01.94; Flanders, 13th, 100 breast, 1:26.39; Cole, 14th, 200 IM, 2:40.65 and 16th, 100 fly, 1:17.04; and Taylor, 15th, 200 free, 2:22.85 and 15th, 500 free, 6:20.02.

Floyd Central scored 502 points to win its sixth-straight sectional title and 15th overall. Jeffersonville was second with 334 points and Seymour was third with 326.

The IHSAA State Finals will be held at the Indiana University Natatorium on the campus of IUPUI in Indianapolis. The preliminaries will be on Friday beginning at 6 p.m. Canida has been placed in the first of four heats of the 100 freestyle. The top 16 finishers will advance to Saturday's finals.

All competition will be streamed live at IHSAAtv.org via pay-per-view at $10 for Friday's preliminaries or $15 for both days.

WRESTLING REGIONALS

Switzerland's Richards, Rose bring home titles

Freshman, sophomore duo earn school's 1st regional championships

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Switzerland County's Peyton Richards and Gabe Rose kept their magical seasons alive as each claimed championships at the IHSAA Wrestling Regional at Jeffersonville on Saturday.

The two Pacers became the first grapplers in school history to win regional crowns and each did it in dominating fashion.

Richards, just a freshman, improved to a perfect 41-0 on the season with a romp through the 120-pound weight class. He pinned Salem's Braedyn Leep in just 1:00 in the first round then posted a 15-0 technical fall in 3:07 over Providence's Eli Theobald in the semifinals. Richards then beat Jayden Owsley of Corydon 8-2 in the finals to win the title.

Rose, a sophomore, pushed his record to 40-1 with a nearly as dominant performance at 138 pounds. HE pinned Charlestown's Austin Tullis in 1:01 in the opening round then pinned Evan Sochacki of Jennings County in 5:48 in the semifinals. Rose clinched his crown with a pin of Columbus North's Jason Shuey in the finals.

Two other Switzerland wrestlers and two Madison Cubs also clinched berths to the semistate with strong performances.

Madison's Van Skinner (30-3) finished second at 182 pounds. Skinner pinned North Harrison's Noah Kendall in 1:05 in the opener and pinned Scottsburg's Braden Morgan in 1:16 in the semifinals. He then lost for the second-straight week to Columbus East's Jackson Fox, this time 3-0 in the finals.

Switzerland's Ethan Rose (34-4) pinned Corydon's Wyatt Schrek in 46 seconds in the opener at 1-6 pounds then pinned New Washington's A.J. Franklin in 1:17 in the semifinals. He then suffered a 12-2 loss to Columbus East's Talon Jessup in the finals.

Switzerland's Dakota Fields (33-6) pinned Corydon's Hunter Pitts in 3:47 in the opener at 113 pounds but then suffered a 15-4 major decision loss to Providence's Henry Lovan in the semifinals. Fields regrouped to pin Carson Collier of Charlestown in 1:33 to claim third.

Madison's Ayden Waggoner (17-6) placed fourth at 170 pounds. Waggoner pinned Jeffersonville's Xander Hobbs in 1:00 in the opener but then lost 4-2 to Teagan Trotter of Jennings County in the semifinals. He then lost 8-6 to Tyler Lake of Columbus East in the third-place match.

Five other local wrestlers saw their seasons end with first-round losses.

Southwestern's Olivia Simpson (00) and Chloey Leach battle with Austin's Jamie Caudill for a ball under the basket during the IHSAA Class 2A Sectional at Austin on Friday. The host Eagles won the game 54-49.

Southwestern's late rally falls short in 54-49 loss to Austin

BY JORDAN BEAR

AUSTIN — Southwestern played arguably its best game of the season but came up just short as the Rebels fell to Austin 54-49 in the semifinals of Class 2A Sectional 46 at Austin on Friday.

The Rebels trailed by 11 at halftime but rallied all the way to within two by the fourth quarter. Southwestern was unable to get over the hump, but coach Brian Crank was pleased with the way his team played.

"I'm so proud of them, and in fact I think everyone in the gym is proud of them. Even the Austin fans are giving us respect which is incredible," Crank said. "These girls played so hard and wanted it so badly and they never let me down. I'm proud of them, and I hope they realize how proud they should be of themselves."

"It didn't look like the game was going to be close at all in the beginning. After Southwestern jumped out to an early 8-2 lead, it was all Austin the rest of the first half as the Eagles sprinted ahead 33-22 at halftime and controlled every facet of the game.

The second half was different, however. Southwestern came out with a new purpose as slowly began to chip away at the lead, eventually getting it down to 40-38 by the end of the third quarter.

The Rebels (9-16) opened the fourth quarter with four-straight possessions where they had a chance to tie or take the lead, but couldn't convert on any of them. Austin took advantage of the lull and timely shots by freshman Brynn Owens allowed the Eagles to gain breathing room and escape with the win.

Crank said his team is familiar with being down at half and he had confidence they would come back.

"I came out of the locker room smiling and someone asked why, and I said, 'we have them right where we want them,' " Crank said with a laugh. "The last four games that we have won, we've been down at the half, so I knew these girls weren't going to roll over. They came out and made everyone proud. They left everything on the court tonight."

Claudia Oliver scored 22 points to lead the Rebels while Riley Scroggins had eight points and Chloey Leach scored seven.

Oliver, an exchange student from Spain, made the most of her final game in a Southwestern uniform, hitting on 7-of-10 shots and pulling down six rebounds. Oliver, who has been playing basketball since she was five years old, said this team was more than a team, they were family.

"Coming here, being thousands of miles away from home, I was afraid of what was going to happen because all my family and friends weren't here," Oliver said. "This team changed that. Every day when I would go to practice or I had a game, I was excited because these girls have become my family. They've made my time here so incredible and I couldn't ask for a better group to be with. I'll be rooting for them and I hope they continue to get better and better."

Crank knows his team can build going forward.

"We have a girls basketball team for every grade from eighth grade to first grade," Crank said. "We're changing how Southwestern girls basketball is viewed and I'm excited for the future."

Brynn Owens led Austin with 23 points. The Eagles (16-10) advanced to the sectional championship on Saturday where they were defeated 42-32 by Brownstown (19-7).

PACERS LOSE TO SOUTH RIPLEY

Switzerland County's season came to an end with a 47-36 loss to South Ripley in the semifinals of the Class 2A Girls Basketball Sectional Tournament at Switzerland on Friday night.

The Pacers, who had posted a win over Ripley in December, struggled to score in the rematch. Courtney Higgins had 15 points and was named to the all-tournament team and Bri Stow scored 10 to lead Switzerland, but the rest of the team combined for just 11 points. Macy Collier and Isabella Breeck scored four each and Lauren Smith had three.

South Ripley (16-9) went on to beat Hauser (10-12) 42-31 on Saturday night to win its third-straight sectional title and fifth in the past six years.

Switzerland ends the season with a 13-10 record but returns its entire roster.

3A GIRLS BASKETBALL SECTIONAL

Scottsburg's long-range shooting ends Madison's season

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

CORYDON — Watching Scottsburg drop in 3-pointer after 3-pointer, Madison coach Adam Dennis felt like he was between a rock and a hard place. On one hand, the Warriorettes were ripping apart the Lady Cub zone to hit long-range shots but on the other hand, it was Madison's zone that had carried the Cubs all season.

In the end, Dennis decided to stick with the zone and although Madison made a late charge to pull within five points, Scottsburg's 11 treys were enough to carry the Warriorettes to a 71-56 win in the semifinals of the Class 3A Girls Basketball Sectional at Corydon on Friday.

"The've got so many shooters that they run, and they run, they're really good at putting those shooters in actions so it makes it really hard to go man. And we had success last time trying to stay wide in our zone," Dennis said. "I could question myself all night on that. But I'm not sure that the outcome would have been any different."

Unlike the last time when the two teams met, when Madison scored a 56-47 win in overtime on Jan. 17, Scottsburg didn't struggle with its shooting, in the first half at least. The Warriorettes rained down eight 3-pointers in the game's first 16 minutes, including six in the second quarter as they raced out to a 37-26 lead at halftime.

Scottsburg hit two more 3-pointers right off the bat at the start of the third but then the well went dry and that's when Madison went into attack mode. Switching to a press, the Cubs began taking the action right at Scottsburg and although they weren't getting points — they only scored 10 in the third quarter — they were racking up fouls on the Warriorettes at an damaging rate.

Madison cut the lead to nine going into the fourth then got a pair of gifts when Scottsburg's Hannah Stutesman and Katrina Cooper fouled out on back-to-back plays with just over five minutes left in the game.

With the Warriorettes' twin 6-footers, who had combined for 30 points, out of the game, the door was open for a Madison comeback.

David Campbell

Madison's Cadence Traylor (in white) battles with Scottsburg's Katrina Cooper (middle) and Lola Fouts (left) for a loose ball during the IHSAA Girls Sectional at Corydon on Friday. The Cubs fell to the Warriors to end their season.

But the Cubs comeback never came through. Madison cut the lead to five (51-46) with three and a half minutes to go but couldn't get any closer. The Cubs scored 20 points in the fourth but were forced to put Scottsburg on the line where the Warriorettes were 8-of-10 down the stretch to seal the win.

All of those fouls on Scottsburg allowed Madison to go 22-for-32 from the free-throw line, but the Cubs were only 15-for-47 (32%) from the floor, including 4-for-25 (16%) from the arc. The Warriorettes, meanwhile, ended up shooting 51% overall, and 11-for-23 from the 3-point line.

"A shot falls here, a shot falls there, it may be a totally different outcome. All you can do is to give yourself opportunities for that to happen," Dennis said. "We gave ourselves opportunities but we just couldn't get over the hump at critical times."

Cam Cahall scored 16 points and had 10 rebounds in her final high school game while fellow senior Casey Dyer had 15 points, six rebounds and three steals. Cadence Traylor had 11 points, eight rebounds and two steals while freshman Juliana Davis scored 11 points.

Scottsburg was led by Stutesman, who scored 19 points before fouling out, while Ellie Richardson had 18 points and seven rebounds, Carrie Hiler had 13 points and Cooper scored 11.

The Warriorettes (19-6) saw their season end on Saturday when they lost 63-54 to sixth-ranked Corydon in the sectional championship.

Madison ends its season with a 10-12 record. The Cubs lose five seniors to graduation — Cahall, Dyer, Alaina Kelley, Breck Ralston and Traylor — and Dennis said that it will be painful to watch them leave.

"They're special to me and they're special in my family. And they're special to the basketball program in our school and our community," Dennis said. "What what they bring and who they are and the way that they play the game is gonna be the way that they go about in life and I know they're going to do awesome. I hate to let them go."

Husband's tribute turns to tears

AMY DICKINSON ASK AMY

Dear Amy: My husband's job requires that he be active on social media. His primary account contains mostly work-related content, but he also uses it to direct people to some personal writing and photography. He has several thousand followers.

I am not active on social media for my own valid reasons, and I understand that my husband can manage his own choices. I have asked him NOT to post personal information about me, but he still shares more information than I would like.

When my mother died, he posted a "tribute" to her on his blog and promoted it on all his accounts. He included lots of personal details, including her maiden and married names.

A few days ago, he forwarded an email to me from a man who had read his blog. The man said he'd done genealogical research and had determined that his grandmother and my mother were half-sisters. He asked if our family was aware of this and invited someone to contact him for more information, if they were interested.

I have no interest in pursuing this, but other family members might feel differently.

Should I share this with them? I'm very upset and don't know what to do. — Bereaved

Dear Bereaved: People who are more public with their social-media sharing should respect the privacy of others in their lives who have the right to control their own personal or private information.

Your husband should have shown you his tribute to your late mother in advance of posting it to his followers.

Father's funeral attendance is last straw

AMY DICKINSON ASK AMY

Dear Amy: Ten years ago, my father had an affair with an old high school girlfriend. He divorced my mother to marry this other woman.

My parents had been married for more than 20 years, and mom was understandably devastated and went "no contact" with him.

My brother and I were in college at the time and, after a lengthy period of estrangement from our dad, are barely back on speaking terms with him.

Recently, our mother died after a brief illness.

I stopped by a relative's home prior to the funeral service and spotted my father dressed up and seemingly ready to attend the funeral.

Amy, I flipped out. My father treated my mom terribly during the divorce. They had been in the same room only a handful of times over the years for college graduations and a wedding.

I went into bouncer mode and forbade him from attending.

My brother and his wife backed me up, telling him that it would be inappropriate for him to be there.

He says that we owe him an apology, but we think he's being his usual selfish, self-serving and perpetual-victim self. What do you think? — Not Going to Apologize This Time

Dear Not Going to Apologize: I'm with you and your brother. If your father had really wanted to support you through this trying time, he would have contacted you both in advance of showing up to express his fatherly concern and to ask how he could best support you.

Showing up where you suspect you're not welcome is classic behavior for a practiced boundary-crosser.

ASTROLOGY

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — You may attract praise and admiration, so this could be a good day to meet and impress new people. If you are too willing to compromise your own needs, you are less likely to compete successfully in the world.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — Instead of wallowing in guilt about past transgressions, unpack the situation, learn the important lessons and make sincere amends. Make friends with coworkers but remain wise about inter-personal politics.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Let someone else take the lead today. You will find decisions much easier to make if you follow the group consensus. Don't try to change someone's mind when you can find a way to achieve a beneficial compromise.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — Be on your best behavior. If you are too pushy, you could accidentally cross a boundary. Intriguing insights and/or wise observations may inspire you to make a difference by doing something praiseworthy and worthwhile.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — You may feel empowered to tackle just about anything. Working in tandem with others can make you successful at anything you initiate. Someone close can be financially astute and could teach you how to develop your ideas.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Focus on making yourself financially secure so you can enjoy higher levels of comfort and freedom,. An accidental meeting with an old friend or making a new contact can lead to more money in your pocket.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — An opportunity to engage in some social networking could present you with an unexpected bonus. Your charm and attractiveness can attract others and they are likely to be the kind of people you can trust.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — Listen to feedback and up your game — it's likely to be the right time to make improvements or fill in some gaps. You should benefit by taking part in group activities, meetings or online conferences.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — Seek out like-minded companions to stay abreast of the latest trends in your special interests. Participating in collaborations can give you a chance to generously share your talents and knowledge with others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — You are up to the challenge, even if extra bills or financial obligations seem to threaten your efforts to become more self-sufficient. Focus on gratitude for the benefits in your life and escape if you can from routines.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — Too much guilt can actually prevent growth if you make yourself so miserable you can't learn the lesson. Remove emotion so you can analyze things and make a better choice next time. Replace shame with new understanding.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — It might be easy to wrap someone around your little finger, and you could be surprised by someone's interest and pursuit. Be cautious expressing sympathy for someone's emotional turmoil — it might trigger something.

ASTROLOGY

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — A preference for the limelight without rolling up your sleeves to do the work may not be an option. You may have to surrender to the current need and dig down into your trove of self-discipline to get the job done.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — A few thoughtful words to instill inspiration can do a world of good. You could be a sympathetic sounding board for someone struggling with a personal issue. Spend time with an old or brand-new friend.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Be discreet and avoid sharing potentially confidential information. Even with good intentions, voicing criticisms could do much more harm than good. Too much negativity can make mildly troubling events seem worse

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — Put some real energy behind your talk. Outdoor activities, sports or exercise could help you blow off steam and loosen up.. Don't initiate a heart-to-heart talk to bring you both closer if you can't process the past now.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — Choose to buy quality rather than following a fad. Apply an eye for detail to any potential purchase and you will probably find flaws. One of your closest friends may act on your behalf, but without your knowledge.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Consider the symbolisms within your dreams — you may be given insights into what is going on in your subconscious mind or receive timely help. You may take a dim view of a directive that doesn't seem to make sense..

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — You can spread sunshine around with friendly greetings. Sharing a sense of camaraderie can make the possibility of an affectionate merger a reality. Analyze your budget and think carefully about finances.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — You may struggle to make a change in routines. Amuse yourself with a hobby or enjoy some belly laughs with friends or associates. Meeting new people and discussing their views could teach you something of value.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — Reach out for what you are dreaming of. Your life can be enriched by amusements and hobbies as well as by learning new skills. Gather knowledge and expand your horizons through as many means as possible.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Avoid taking on extra obligations. You might be tempted to flaunt bougie trappings of success by spending more than you can afford. Keep the budget in mind when tempting or trendy items call your name.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — You may benefit from listening to inner guidance as well as good advice from others. Get reassurance from reliable sources if you are anxious or feeling stuck on a treadmill that is going nowhere.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Impress people with your warmth, charm and gentle spirit. Attractive new contacts may tempt you to take a break from a current crush, but don't break a commitment. A business matter might require careful planning.

No. 21 Indiana beats No. 1 Purdue

BY MICHAEL MAROT
ASSOCIATED PRESS

BLOOMINGTON — Trayce Jackson-Davis returned to Indiana so he could celebrate a banner season.

On Saturday, the fourth-year forward added another big piece to his legacy.

He scored 25 points and then watched Jalen Hood-Schifino break free for the clinching dunk with 2 seconds left to give No. 21 Indiana a 79-74 victory over No. 1 Purdue — and a quick storming of the court.

It's the fourth time the Hoosiers have beaten the nation's top-ranked team at Assembly Hall, and the first since upsetting Michigan almost exactly 10 years earlier.

"I just think it's a toughness factor," Jackson-Davis said, explaining why this team is different. "I feel like teams in the past that I've been on just weren't that tough, honestly. We've kind of played with a chip on our shoulders since we got punked by Rutgers and we've kind of found our niche and that's what we're doing.'

The only guy that's been even close to Jackson-Davis' productivity over the past month has been Purdue's Zach Edey, who had 33 points and 18 rebounds.

But it was Jackson-Davis who walked away with his sixth win in seven games by moving within 16 points of becoming the first Indiana player to ever score 2,000 and grab 1,000 rebounds. He finished with seven rebounds and five blocks, becoming the first player to have 25 points and five blocks against a No. 1-ranked team since Marcus Camby in November 1995 against Kentucky.

Fittingly, Jackson-Davis and the Hoosiers (16-7, 7-5 Big Ten) celebrated with their fellow students, who rekindled memories of Christian Watford's buzzer-beating 3-pointer to beat No. 1 Kentucky in December 2010. And this time, the fans lingered on the court long after the final buzzer as they pumped fists and danced to the sweet sounds emanating from the pep band.

It marked the first time in the 216-game series Purdue (22-2, 11-2) was ranked No. 1.

"They were our sixth man honestly and we fed off of it," Jackson-Davis said. "That was the most electric crowd since I've been here. They really helped us."

But Indiana also played pretty well, forcing 16 turnovers and shooting 52.6% from the field against a defense that had held 24 consecutive opponents to 70 or fewer points. It won despite getting outrebounded 38-22 and nearly blowing a 16-point lead.

The 7-foot-4 Edey positioned Purdue for the charge by scoring eight of Purdue's first 10 second-half points to cut a 15-point deficit to nine. He then added the final six points in a 12-4 spurt that make it 67-65 with 5:40 to play. And when Braden Smith's layup made it 71-70 with 2:03 left, even Boilermakers coach Matt Painter sensed the fans' angst.

"If you can flip that or tie it or take the lead there, it's just a different feeling," he said. "It's really hard to overcome that, the air kind of goes out of it, things get quiet in your own arena."

Instead, the Hoosiers forced three turnovers and eventually closed it out with four free throws, a layup from Hood-Schifino and the dunk off a perfectly designed inbound pass from second-year coach Mike Woodson, who has won both home meetings against Indiana's archrival.

"I didn't know the play was going to go that way, obviously," said Hood-Schifino, who had 16 points. "But in the last timeout, I told coach I'm going to get this last bucket, so I was happy."

BIG PICTURE

Purdue: Even on an uncharacteristic day, the Boilermakers showed why they are the nation's top team. The matchup with Edey is so difficult, Purdue can exploit it at will.

Indiana: The Hoosiers did everything they needed early — making shots, ramping up the pace and making life generally difficult for the Boilermakers. And down the stretch they showed the mettle of a team that was the preseason conference favorite.

POLL IMPLICATIONS

Purdue entered the day with a nine-game winning streak and as the only one-loss team in Division I, so another loss may not knock them out of the top spot. Indiana, which reappeared Monday in the Top 25, has solidified its spot despite losing earlier this week at Maryland.

UP NEXT

Purdue: Returns home Thursday against Iowa (TV: Live on ESPN2 at 7 p.m.).

Indiana: Hosts Rutgers on Tuesday (TV: Live on BTN at 6:30 p.m.).

Menacing charge against Bengals' Mixon dismissed

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CINCINNATI — Bengals running back Joe Mixon no longer faces a misdemeanor charge of aggravated menacing over allegations that he threatened and pointed a gun at a woman in Cincinnati.

A Friday order dismissing the case in Hamilton County Municipal Court said only that the city prosecutor's office requested the dismissal "in the interest of justice."

A warrant for Mixon was issued Thursday. A police officer's accompanying affidavit alleged that the 26-year-old pointed a firearm and told the victim: "You should be popped in the face. I should shoot you, the police (can't) get me."

It said the altercation happened a few blocks from the Bengals' stadium on Jan. 21 — the day before Cincinnati beat the Buffalo Bills in a divisional-round playoff game — but included no other details about the circumstances.

"I really feel that police have an obligation before they file charges — because of the damage that can be done to the person's reputation — to do their work," said Mixon's agent, Peter Schaffer.

A statement from the Bengals said the team was investigating the situation and not commenting further on the charge or its dismissal.

Mixon rushed for 814 yards and seven touchdowns this season, his sixth. He also had 60 receptions for 441 yards, both career highs, and two touchdowns.

Mixon was a second-round draft pick out of Oklahoma in 2017. Several teams said they passed on him because of concerns about his character after Mixon punched a female Oklahoma student in the face in 2014.

He was suspended from the football team for a year and entered an Alford plea, in which a defendant does not admit guilt but acknowledges there is enough evidence for a conviction. He received a deferred sentence and was ordered to perform community service and undergo counseling.

Canaan Utilities Corporation will hold its annual meeting March 14th, 2023 at 7:00 p.m. at the utility office. Business will include the election of three director positions. All members are invited to attend.

HANOVER ROUNDUP

Hanover women roll over Earlham 77-47

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Hanover women's basketball regrouped from its second conference loss of the season with a 77-47 hammering of Earlham Saturday on the road.

The Panthers led only 19-13 after the first quarter but blitzed Earlham to the tune of 21-5 in the second half to pull away. Hanover then won the third and fourth quarters to seal the win.

Grace Bezold scored 20 points while Katherine Benter had 16 points and eight rebounds to lead Hanover. Callie Wilder came off the bench to post a double-double of 13 points and 10 rebounds.

Hanover, now 13-6 overall and 11-2 in Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference play, remained in second place in the league standings, two games behind undefeated Transylvania.

The Panthers travel to Franklin on Wednesday and then head to Manchester on Saturday.

MEN'S BASKETBALL BEATS QUAKERS

Hanover men's basketball won for the sixth-straight time to remain a game out of first place 76-70 at Earlham on Saturday.

Purdue stays No. 1 in AP Top 25

BY AARON BEARD
AP BASKETBALL WRITER

Purdue's unquestioned grip on No. 1 in The Associated Press men's college basketball poll is gone after a weekend loss. That didn't stop the Boilermakers from remaining at the top anyway.

The Boilermakers earned 38 of 62 first-place votes in the poll released Monday to remain at No. 1 for a third straight week and seventh time this season. Purdue was the unanimous choice last week, the first for any team this season, before falling at Indiana over the weekend for only its second loss.

The Boilermakers (22-2, 11-2) have a leading candidate for national player of the year in Zach Edey and KenPom's No. 1-ranked offense (121.1 points scored per 100 possessions) to go with a top-25 defense. But they got down big, committed 16 turnovers and allowed the Hoosiers — up to No. 18 this week — to shoot nearly 53% in a 79-74 loss Saturday.

"When we go to Zach and we make some perimeter shots, the defense gets better sometimes when the offense flows," Purdue coach Matt Painter said at his postgame news conference. "And you can't do that. You can always rebound, you can always take care of the ball, you can always make your free throws, those things there."

The loss meant Houston collected 22 first-place votes as it rose one spot to No. 2, followed by No. 3 Alabama and No. 4 Arizona in each claiming one.

THE TOP TIER

Texas jumped five spots to No. 5, shooting past Tennessee, which fell four spots to No. 6 after losing last week at Florida.

UCLA, Virginia, Kansas and Marquette rounded out the top 10, with Shaka Smart's Golden Eagles cracking the top 10 for the first time since 2019.

RISING

The Longhorns' jump marked the biggest of the week, followed by Marquette and Miami each rising four spots. No. 13 Xavier, No. 15 Saint Mary's and No. 21 UConn joined Indiana in each moving up three positions.

In all, 12 teams rose from last week's rankings.

SLIDING

Kansas State took the week's biggest tumble, falling five spots to No. 12 after losing at Kansas and at home to Texas last week. No. 16 Gonzaga joined Tennessee in falling four spots after its overtime loss at Saint Mary's.

In all, nine teams fell from last week's rankings.

STATUS QUO

Purdue was the only team to remain in the same position this week.

WELCOME

North Carolina State earned its first AP Top 25 ranking in four years, checking in at No. 22.

The Wolfpack (19-5, 9-4 Atlantic Coast Conference) spent six weeks in the poll during the 2018-19 season. N.C. State already has surpassed the win total for each of the last two seasons and is in contention for the program's first NCAA Tournament berth since 2018.

Creighton and Rutgers joined N.C. State as this week's new additions to the poll, though both were ranked earlier this season.
